

This communicate directly follows the one published on October 4.

DNR would like to precise, after what has been published by Myspace-comment on October 14 under the Official Statement re-posted article on our Ukrainian Support, by Harris Ghouse, that any of the accusations reported in no way fit the truth of the facts.

Whatever Mr. Harris Ghouse signed in Moscow is part of a private agreement which has not to be discussed in public places, indeed with our devoted fans.

In regards to his last intervention we publicly distrust any of his words, pasts, presents and futures, would it be about DNR or other bands.

As we came to know by Cinema Bizarre Management and TokioHotel FanClub that Harris Ghouse has already spoke the untrue about other European Bands, disregarding the business ethic (please find on the Tokio Hotel Romanian FanClub the threads about his promise to make the band come to Romania - <http://www.tokiohotel-fanclub.ro/> -) and the legal one, continuing to claim the promoting of shows that have never been played (as for those with Cinema Bizarre he cancelled two days before), as he did with DNR (cancellation of the February 27, 2010 show in Paris), we advice you not to trust any public or private communication coming from him.

Here you can find flyers for events that never took place.

As for the attempt to DNR members, staff and friends private life done in the Myspace-comment, we'd like you to believe that DNR's respect goes beyond whatever has been wrote and the band is confident about everyone's good sense to give to those allegations the treatment they deserve. DNR would also like to let you know that Luminor and them are walking side by side, and their mutual friendship and artistic respect has not been touched by this vicissitude. This would be DNR's last word on the topic, hoping the upcoming Single and video Beyond This World would remember everyone what all this is about music and passion.
